And today's financial tip:

What does an oversubscribed issue mean?

When investors bid for new shares in a company or new bonds from an issuer and the total quantity of bids placed is greater than the amount being issued, the issue is said to be oversubscribed. This means that the demand for the security is greater than the supply. This may occur when a new issue is under-priced or is in great demand because investors anticipate returns higher than that offered on comparable investments.
